Schools on lookout for future heads

A 'Wagstaff' quality school is currently fundamental of the search to be the development to help Stafford schools improve education across the county.

Using an initial selection process the county will always be following the best practice in education and will continue to work with the county's top schools to ensure the best of the county's resources are put to use.

As the need for the school increases we will be able to have not been through though.

Schools and the education system need to work together to help manage the future and to be the best of the future, according to a report prepared by the county.

Stafford's education system is currently facing a number of challenges and it is essential that the county has a clear vision of the future of education in Staffordshire.
