Rally against apathy draws small crowd

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Organizers had high hopes for a rally Saturday to focus apathy on civic life, but the event drew only a fraction of the anticipated crowd.

Thomas Payne, a spokesman for the Governor of Civic Leadership, said he was hoping for about 25,000 participants to hear live broadcasts of entertainment, press, songs and speeches.

Instead, the rally drew about 300 people, many of whom were security guards, police officers, taxi operators and campaign workers heading out promptly.

"We understood that we had a single incident, and sometimes these types of incidents drive people from civic involvement," Payne said, referring to the bombing that rocked the Olympic Games in Atlanta early Saturday, killing two people and injuring at least 110 others.

Another reason for the low turnout, Payne said, was just what his group is trying to battle — apathy.

Still, he was optimistic.

"This is a beginning, not an end," Payne said.

The rally began with a march from Saint Elizabeth Library to the Capitol square a few blocks away. Payne said he was expecting groups from Stillwater, Tulsa, Lawton, Tulsa and Muskogee.

Payne said organizers started planning the rally in April to "revive, rekindle and renew our community."

More Doctors Smoke CAMELS than any other cigarette!

Doctors in every branch of medicine
were asked, "What cigarette do you smoke?"
The brand named most
was Camel!

You'll enjoy Camels for the same reasons
so many doctors enjoy them. Camels have rich, cool mildness, pack after pack, and a flavor unmatched by any other cigarette.

Make this week's test—smoke only Camels for 30 days and see how well Camels
please your taste, how well they suit your throat as you steadily smoke. You'll see how enjoyable a cigarette can be!
